RALLY OF DEMOCRATIC-SILVER CANDIDATES AT OPERA HOUSE

DR. PATTERSON--HIS SPEECH--REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES WON'T DISOWN--TALK IS CHEAP--HEAR THE FACTS TO-NIGHT

Half a dozen republican state candidates arrived from Gardnerville this afternoon.

Every man interviewed by The Appeal was asked if Dr. Patterson is not endorsed by the Republican candidates. BUT NOT ONE MAN INTERVIEWED WOULD ALLOW HIMSELF TO BE QUOTED.

From the head of the ticket down to the end of the list, every man is afraid to come out and say that Dr. Patterson is not of or by the party in his accusations.

Not one single candidate interviewed would allow the Appeal to say that he, "John Doe," disclaims any participation, intent or knowledge of the fact that Dr. Patterson came from Reno expressly to make this speech.

The Appeal sought these candidates expressly to get an expression from them on this matter.

Not one would allow himself to be quoted.

The inference is plain.

Either these men are afraid to disown Patterson, or they stand for what he has said.

In either case they stand convicted.

It is an easy thing to stand on the side walk and say, "we don't stand for this thing, come have a drink," and quite another to stand up and say, "quote me as saying that this man has injected dirty politics into this campaign, has made statements I cannot stand for and will not stand for, and I am sorry it has happened."

Included among the candidates that arrived today from Douglas county are Jas. Mitchell, candidate for governor; Geo. Mills, for lieutenant governor; E. R. Dodge for Supreme Judge; Gib Douglass for Secretary of State; Oscar Smith, for Congress; Judge Murphy, and several others.

In one of the most remarkable speeches ever delivered on a political stump, Dr. Patterson, of Reno, took occasion to make accusations against the personal, business and political honor of Governor Sparks and Attorney General Sweeney in this city Thursday night.

In addition to the charges he made against these men, he made allusions to their appearance and daily life that were derogatory in the highest degree.

Both gentlemen announced last night in Virginia City that they will call the doctor to account for his statements. Both announced they will reply to the statement in this city tonight.

What prompted Dr. Patterson to make such a speech is a mystery to his own friends, but Governor Sparks explained the part of the episode that has fallen upon him, and will do so again to-night.

Attorney General Sweeney also explained the part of the episode that had fallen upon him, and will do so again to-night.

Governor Sparks accused Dr. Patterson of attempting to change him, the governor, in a questionable transaction in which the governor refused to have a part. Dr. Patterson resigned his place at the asylum two weeks later.

It appears the republican party is so hard up for arguments with which to make a campaign, consequently a lost campaign--some of them have lost their heads and have been foolish enough to make statements about matters that are of record, matters that can be shown in black and white, and that will show the two gentlemen to be innocent of the charges made by Dr. Patterson.

The whole affair is to be a play on personal politics, not good, Nevada, honorable tactics. The speech of Dr. Patterson has set as a boomerang already, but the end is not yet.

At the opera house tonight, the personal and political friends, as well as the personal and political enemies of the accused gentlemen will hear some facts about these matters, and may hear something about the campaign that has been made against the democratic party thus far in this state, that will open the eyes of every voter in Ormsby county.

Justice Norcross, who presided at the meeting stated this morning for publication, that he does not endorse any of the statements of Dr. Patterson, and that had he known the doctor intended to make such a speech, he, Norcross, would not have presided at the meeting.

"Had I known that Dr. Patterson intended to say the things he did I should not have consented to preside at the meeting.

"I want to say that I do not endorse the statements and am more than sorry they were made."

JUSTICE F. H. NORCROSS

One of the most successful and public of the candidates took their last meeting of the campaign was held in Virginia City last night by the democratic candidates under the leadership of Governor Sparks.

The city was thronged and both men and women gave the outcoming a warm reception, and a crowd of a big crowd to Piper Opera house where the meeting was held.

The famous old auditorium was filled with its usual when Chairman Stearns opened the meeting and introduced the first speaker of the evening. From that moment there was a continuous succession of enthusiastic speeches and enthusiastic applause. Every speaker was cheered when he arose to address the audience and was cheered when he finished.

It remained for Governor Sparks to arouse every latent spark of Democratic joy that remained. He rose to talk about the issue of the campaign, the real issues, the good of the whole people of the State of Nevada; but as he talked the sense of the wrong done him in a speech by Dr. Patterson in Carson City the night before, got uppermost.

Governor Sparks referred to this speech, a copy of which was received

KITCHEN SHOWER FOR NOVEMBER BRIDE

This afternoon Mrs. W. H. Cavell and Miss Platt entertained a number of guests in honor of Miss Pearle Cowing, who is to be a November bride.

To add to the zest of the occasion each guest was requested to attach a verse of poetry to her gift, a prize being awarded to the poem which was decided by a competent committee to be the best. The rhymes were exceedingly clever and amusing and a number of laughter greeted each production.

The brightness of the bride's home was heightened by the elegant wealth of gifts and once thereon on gave thanks of the gift and some that had given but let folks are most-likely to be surprised.

THE CAPITOL MELL

Editor Appeal:--Your contemporary, The News, continues to dwell upon the Artesian Well, so called, in the Capitol grounds hoping no doubt, by so doing to mislead the public. What are the facts relating to the well? The State wanted more water and it was decided by the legislature to increase that supply from subterranean sources. With this object in view the Legislature passed an Act to secure a larger water supply for the State Capitol and State Orphans' Home, and making an appropriation therefor.

Sections 1 and 2 of which reads as follows:

"The sum of ten thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of the moneys in the General Fund of the State, not otherwise appropriated, for the purpose of providing a larger water supply for the State Capitol and State Orphans' Home."

"Section 2--Within six months after the approval of this act the Board of Capitol Commissioners are hereby authorized empowered and required to commence the sinking of an artesian well upon the grounds of the Capitol square or upon the grounds of the State Orphans' Home for the purpose of developing artesian or subterranean water supply for the uses of the State."

It will be seen from this that the Capitol Commissioners were required within six months after the approval of the Act to commence sinking an Artesian Well on the Capitol square or upon the State Orphans' Home grounds. Ormsby County was represented in the Legislature that passed the Act by four republicans, all of whom voted for the bill. The News, it is disposed to be fair, would say that the Capitol Commissioners did nothing more or less than what the law required them to do. They could not dig for water under the Capitol of the State except on the "land of the State or the Orphans' Home grounds. Does the News desire them to go and dig for water what the law requires them to do?
